ATE DOGS IN SAMAR.

The condition of the survivors of Capt. David D. Postner's marines, who took part in the recent expedition ict > the interior of Samar, is much worse than previously described. They suf-fered fearful hardships and were without food several days. The natives who accompanied the marines said they were unable to distinguish the edible roots, which the marines did not believe. The anger of the marines against the natives is intense. None of the latter returned with the party. The marines suffered so scutely from strivation that they at a raw the flesh of two dogs. When Captain Porter and the first three of his men at aggered into camp they were delirious and difficulty was experienced in learning the whereabouts of their companions.

Private Williams, of the First In-fantry, headed the relief expedition in the face of a torrential rainstorm which flooded the rivers. He succeeded in reaching the last remaining 10 men, who would otherwise have certainly perished. They were all delirious. Two of the men were discovered in branches of trees barking like dogs, Some of the marines are so ill that they are not likely to recover.

General Chaffee has tried to obtain full details of the trip made by the marines, but Captain Portar is not yet able to explain matters lucidly. The General has curtified his trip of inspec-tion and returned to Manila. He says he from and returned to mannia. He says he found the conditions satisfact my everywhere except in Samar, where the continuous rain during the last two months has retarded the campaign, "especially against such an elusive enemy."

Capt. David D. Porter, of the Marine Corps, recently led 86 men in an expedition across Samar. The men were provided with rations for only five days, but were absent two weeks. On January 21 Captain Porter and 26 of his men reached the coast of Samar. The other 10 men were missing and The other 10 men were missing and hope of their safety was entertained, but, scoording to the preceding dispatch, they, too, have been found.

The Captain was appointed to the Marine Corps from the District of Columbia, where he was born.

VALUE OF SERMONS .- The value to be placed on 200 sermons in manuscript and notes is the perplexing problem to be solved by the board of arbitration in settling a claim of Rev. W. P. Hines, of Norfolk, against the Norfolk and Western Railroad. The well-known minister, who, as an evangelist, has conducted successful revivals all conducted successful revivals all through Virginia, North Carolina and Maryland, and the railroad company maryland, and the railroad company are unable to agree in the mat er, and have decided to arbitrate it. Ray, Dr. A. E. Owen, of Portsmouth, has been chosen to represent Rev. Mr. Hines; Rev. Herbert M. Hope, of Petersburg, represents the railroad, and these two will choose a third man if they are not able to reach an agreement among themselves. The case is an un-usual one. Rev. Mr. Hines in traveling over the Norfolk and Western system had the misfortune to lose his satchel containing the sermons, some clithing, and other articles. The satchel was properly checked, but somehow it got lost. All efforts to trace it were futile. The railroad company admit; its liability, but has not been able to come to tarms with Mr. been able to come to tarms with Mr. Hines as to the value to be placed on the lost sermons. The minister wanted a liberal allowance for the manuscripts, on which he had spent so much thought, time, and labor. The railroad thought he had put his figures too high, and hence the arb tration in which so much interest is felt.

SALOON AS A "NECESSARY EVIL."-'The Saloon Problem" is discussed by Bishop Henry C. Pct er in the current number of the New York Independent. He regards the saloon as a necessary evil and deals with the proposition to allow it to remain open in New Yrrk on Sondays, The article in part is as fol-

"I have payer dreamed of regarding the present saloon as etter a blessing or a necessity and no word of mine whether uttered recently or at any ctier time, warrants any such inference. I have simply regarded it as an inevitable and necessary evil, until it was disdiaced by something better. To close it worther on Sundays or on any other particular days, is uct to displace it by something worthy of public hespect and legal protection; and my controversey is simply with hose who have no other aim in dealing with misanevious init tution, than to sup-press t; where a the only hope of re-form is in displacement by sub-titution. The present proposition to close the saloons on Sunday and otherwise is ave them aloue is the policy of those who refuse to face facts or to deal with them as their exigency demands. And be cause this is so, the present sgitation as to closed, or open, or half-opened saloons does not interest me in the smallest degree, It is equally superficial sophist cal."
